Governor's Election Candidate Comparison

John Bel Edwards

- Led the charge to increase Louisiana public school funding: dedicated 50 percent of funds to teacher pay raises.
- Fought to sustain teacher pay increases in subsequent legislative sessions.
- Stood up for Louisiana school employees who were locked out of the Louisiana State Capitol during important education policy debates.
- Improved process for auditing schools in academic crisis.
- Vigorously opposed Bobby Jindal's failed education policies and "so-called" school reform schemes.
- Consistent champion for public education and increased school funding.
- Honest public servant, small business owner, veteran army ranger company commander.
- Devoted father & husband of a school teacher.

John Bel Edwards has delivered on promises time and time again.

David Vitter

- Slashed the education budget by billions of dollars in favor of tax cuts for billionaires.
- Repeatedly voted against increasing teacher and support staff pay, teacher training and reducing classroom size.
- Voted against a $44 billion increase in special education funding.
- Voted against student loan forgiveness for teachers.
- Voted for tax bill benefiting the wealthy while raising taxes for Louisiana students.
- Repeatedly voted against billions for public education funding; flip-flopped on the common core.
- Took millions from corporations to support big business profit margins; advocated for the privatization of public education & school vouchers.
- Implicated in the "D.C. Madam" scandal.

David Vitter claims he's going to give teachers a pay raise, but his education voting record clearly proves otherwise.
